THE OREGON LEGISLATURE

Sixth Biennial Session

HOUSE—Morning Session

SALEM Sept 13 1870

The House was called to order at 9 o clock

The journal of yesterday was read corrected and approved

DRAWING SEATS—SERGEANT AT ARMS

The members on motion of Mr Whiteaker proceeded to select seats as their counties were called by the Clerk from a mixed list prepared by him

Mr Whiteaker I would move that the Sergeant at arms be requested to obtain the keys for the desks

Mr Speaker—There is no Sergeant at arms

Mr Alexander I would inquire what has become of our Sergeant at arms?

Mr Speaker I am informed that he is not going to serve any longer I do not know how it is

Mr Whiteaker Have we had a Sergeant at arms this morning

Mr Speaker—None

Mr Whiteaker—Then Sir, I move the office of Sergeant at arms be declared vacant

Mr Olney—It seems to me that this is rather premature The Sergeant at arms may be sick It is only last evening that he was elected It seems to me the House should not be so hasty to dismiss this officer I only suggest a little delay in order that the officer may have justice done him

Mr Grant—I will make a motion as an amendment to the motion pending that we elect a temporary Sergeant at arms until the difficulty be ascertained

Mr Olney—I second the motion

Mr Dorris—I was informed last evening by the Sergeant at arms that he expected to resign I have been further informed that he has insulted half a dozen members of this House because they did not vote for his son for Page, therefore I shall vote against the amendment and for the original motion

Mr Olney I will say that if any of the members will confirm the statement of the gentleman from Lane (Mr Dorris) I will vote for the original motion

Mr Fulton—I will confirm the statement Speaking of the refusal to elect his son Page he said it was a d—d shame

Mr Olney—Did you hear him make such a remark?

Mr Fulton—I did Sir He said it was a d—d shame he also said he would not serve as Sergeant at arms

Mr Olney—Then I am ready to vote for the motion

Mr Alexander—I have a resolution to offer

Mr Speaker—There is a motion before the House

Mr Whiteaker—I am pleased to hear the remarks of the gentleman from Clatsop

Mr Olney—Had I not been informed yesterday that the Sergeant at Arms was going to resign and had he not exhibited a great deal of feeling, I should not have made the motion I did from the fact that he is not here this morning and that he has declared his intention to resign I made the motion If my friend from Linn (Mr Alexander) wishes to offer a resolution on the subject, I will withdraw my motion

Mr Alexander—I merely wanted to get at the facts in the case

Mr Whiteaker—Then, sir, I hope my motion will prevail

Mr Grant—After the statement in this matter I will withdraw my amendment

The question on Mr Whiteaker's motion was taken and the office was declared vacant

Mr Helm—I now move that we proceed to the election of Sergeant at-Arms to fill the vacancy

The motion prevailed and Messrs W E Howell J Gurnsey, Thomas Jackson and J J Blevins were nominated

On the second ballot Mr Howell was elected receiving 26 votes

He was sworn into office by Hon S F Chadwick Secretary of State and procured the keys for the desk of the members

CONTESTANTS—DOCUMENTS

Mr Grant—As the seats of the members from Yamhill Benton and Clackamas counties are to be contested, I move that the gentlemen contesting these seats be invited to occupy seats upon the floor of the House The motion prevailed

A resolution offered by Mr Dorris was adopted requesting the Secretary of State to furnish each member of the House with a copy of the Journals of the last session of the Legislature a copy of the Code and Session Laws and a copy of the Code and Session Laws to each of the Judges of the Supreme Court

RULES—COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON THE GOVERNOR

Mr Whiteaker offered a resolution to adopt the rules of the last House for the government of the present session until they shall be amended The resolution was adopted

A message from the Senate announced the appointment of a committee from that body, under joint resolution, to act with a like committee from the House, to wait upon the Governor and inform him of the readiness of the Legislature to receive any communication he might wish to make

The Senate resolution was concurred in by the House, and Messrs Grant Starkweather and Fulton, were appointed as the House Committee

The committee retired, and after a short absence returned reporting that the Governor would communicate his Message to the House at 2 o clock P M

Mr Lockhart offered a resolution inviting the Senate to join the House in convention at 2 o clock P M, for the purpose of receiving the Governor's biennial Message The resolution was adopted

NEWSPAPERS

Mr Whalley offered a resolution to authorize the Sergeant at Arms to furnish each member of the House with six newspapers during the session allowing each member to make his own choice

Mr Dorris moved to amend by inserting 'four' instead of 'six' The amendment was adopted

Mr Amis offered to amend by saying 'daily newspapers or their equivalent in weeklies'

The motion failed The original resolution as amended was adopted

At 11 o clock the House adjourned until 1 o clock

Afternoon Session.

The House met at 1 o clock P M Speaker Hayden in the chair

POSTAGE STAMPS

Mr Quimby offered a resolution to authorize the Secretary of State to furnish each member of the House with three dollars worth of postage stamps

Mr Dorris. I believe it is necessary for members to have stationery and cutlery but I do not know that it is necessary for them to be furnished with postage stamps any more than it would be to furnish single members with perfumed envelopes

Mr Dunbar thought postage stamps should be furnished upon a joint resolution of the House and that one joint resolution ought to include all the articles needed

Mr Hare moved to lay the resolution upon the table and the motion prevailed

CANVASSING THE VOTES

Mr Lockhart offered a resolution to invite the members of the Senate to join the House in convention to-morrow at 10 A M for the purpose of canvassing the vote for Governor at the last election

The resolution was adopted and afterwards on motion of Mr Lockhart was reconsidered so as to provide for canvassing the vote immediately after receiving Governor Woods message and again adopted

JOINT CONVENTION

At 2 o clock P M the members of the Senate entered the Hall of Representatives and were received by the members standing and the Convention was called to order by the President of the Senate

A Joint Committee waited upon and escorted his Excellency Governor Woods into the Chamber of Representatives and on being introduced to the Convention by Speaker Hayden read his message (We published the message yesterday —Ed)

THE INCOMING GOVERNOR

Mr Dorris moved to proceed immediately to count the vote for Governor The motion prevailed

Secretary Chadwick delivered the returns from the counties to the Speaker of the House who breaking the seals of the returns in alphabetical order handed them to the Clerk to be announced to the Convention The vote, as announced is as follows

[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Speaker Hayden announced the result and declared that L F Grover having received a majority of 630 votes, was duly elected Governor of Oregon for the ensuing four years

Mr Hendershott offered a resolution to appoint a Committee of five to wait upon Governor Grover and inform him of the result of the canvass and that the convention is ready to receive any communication he may have to offer The resolution was adopted

Messrs Hendershott, Thompson Lockhart Dorris and O Regan were appointed such committee

After an absence of fifteen minutes the committee returned and reported that the Governor elect would be ready to take the official oath at 10 A M to morrow

The committee recommended that the inauguration take place at Reed's Opera House

Mr Thompson offered a resolution inviting the members of the Supreme Court, and other public officers to be present at the inauguration, and also requesting the Chief Justice to administer the oath of office to the Governor elect The resolution was adopted.

On motion of Mr Lockhart a committee of three to make arrangements for the inauguration was appointed consisting of Messrs Lockhart Whally and McLean

At 3 55 P M the Convention was dissolved and the Senate retired

POSTAGE STAMPS

Mr Lockhart offered a resolution to purchase three dollars worth of postage stamps for each member of the House

Mr Grant I move to amend that resolution sir I know, sir that at the last session of the Legislature sir, some of the members didn't use more than half of their two dollars worth of postage stamps I don't see any kind of use in allowing any more than two dollars worth and I mean to amend so as to say two dollars sir instead of three I think sir the people would not give us much credit for spending their money so freely at this time, when they are suffering under such high taxes The two dollars worth is as much as any body can use, sir

The amendment was adopted, and the resolution as amended was adopted by 43 ayes to 14 noes

At 4 P M the House adjourned

THE TERRITORIES

Frosts have been frequent in Boise valley

Discoveries of marble have been made in Boise Valley, Idaho

Eugene Howard was found dead in his bed at Winnemucca Sept 2d

John Strode, of Boise City had his collar bone fractured by his horse jumping over a sage bush and into a gopher hole and falling with him

The bark Scotland arrived at Bellingham Bay on the 4th inst 28 days from San Francisco, to load with coal for the latter port

It seems that new lillies have been discovered in Washington Territory The Echo speaks of the lil um as the name given to another elegant lily now in blossom in Mrs Coulter's garden in Olympia

The Transcript says Utsalady is the banner town of the Sound for profound repose The school girl's essay on quietude is pertinent there Not a horse stirred, not a man stirred, not a vessel stirred (none there to stir) and the railroad party were camped before the hotel on the beach waiting for the Woodruff to take them to Seattle Our neighbor must be jealous of Utsalady

Crops in Whatcom county, Washington Territory are very heavy this season, especially those on lands reclaimed from the salt marshes, known as the Swinomish flats One farmer had fifty acres of oats yielding eighty bushels to the acre all of which he secured in good order These lands are just beginning to prove their worth as being among the richest on the coast All kinds of crops and fruits do well on them They have to be diked and ditched, but this is considerable less labor than clearing bottom lands The Transcript says there is probably forty thousand acres of these lands in that vicinity Lately quite a large number of persons seeking locations have been looking over them, and many have taken claims About La Conner some of the settlers are on lands claimed by the Indian reservation and of course have some trouble with the Indian department

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT]

SALEM Tuesday Sept 13 1870

The plentiful lack of much matter will preclude a long letter to day The most and only interesting events of the day were the biennial message of Gov Woods and the canvass of the votes cast for Governor at the late election The two Houses got together at two o clock and Governor Woods being notified of the fact by a committee, went into the Convention and read his last message—the last of this term You will have published it before this letter can reach you and I need not therefore remark upon it further than to invite the attention of all readers to the several recommendations contained in it It will be noticed that the Governor makes no allusion at all to political subjects but confines himself to business matters and to such suggestions for the general good of the State as must meet the concurrence of citizens of all classes I infer from this that Gov Woods prefers to retire with dignity, leaving the discussion of partisan issues, living and dead to his successor It is difficult to see how the need of such measures of legislation as he recommends can be gainsayed and yet there is reason to believe that some of the suggestions will be unheeded while the matter of certain others will be the subject of heated and mayhap, angry controversy For instance a Democratic Legislature is not exactly the power to look to for a liberal and enlightened common school policy. I predict that no system such as recommended will be created And yet every argument is in favor of a general system with a central head—a State Superintendent.

In regard to an independent Supreme Court, it is probable that as every lawyer who is not a judge wants to be one the pressure will be great enough to induce the taking of the necessary preliminary steps

The Democracy have of late been talking registry law but it is doubtful if such talk has any sincerity in it The Governor recommends one, and now the matter rests with the Democracy The Republicans will vote for it, perfectly resigned to meet all the losses by it which are possible Such a law would be in support of fairness and honesty let us see if the Democracy will refuse to pass it. The substitution of the ballot for the viva voce method of voting is another important matter All parties, except it may be a few from the rural districts, will probably favor it. The measure which of all others is likely to be a bone of contention is that of providing for the keeping of the insane The Governor recommends the building of an asylum at the Capital, to be under the control of the State Every consideration of propriety and economy is in support of the proposition and it may be said, here, that many of the objections to undertaking the care, by the State of the insane, which were urged two years ago do not now exist There are responsible parties who are prepared to erect suitable buildings at once and to supply every possible requisite for the proper care and treatment of the insane Yet the result is doubtful as the whole matter is liable to be so mixed up with politics and so interwoven with the determination of other questions as to render it impossible that it shall be decided entirely upon the merits

There can scarcely be a question about the necessity of building a penitentiary, and now that the Democracy will have all the patronage there is in the job they will likely not disagree with the Governor's suggestion

Upon the whole, the message gives eminent satisfaction to Republicans, and so far as I can see affords no ground for serious objection—except as above specified—to Democrats It is a paper which does credit both to the head and heart of the Governor

The Governor elect has been invisible mostly, since the assembling of the Legislature It is a mooted question whether he is "holed up and waiting to be sought after and dragged out in regular and approved form for inauguration, or hid away from the office-beggars to avoid importunity or his aristocratic blood revolts at the idea of mixing with the promiscuous rabble It matters little to the rabble which but it does matter much to the bummers for office Having fought bled and drinked for his election they now want a chance at him There is not the best of feeling toward him on the part of a very strong element of the Democratic majority and it is said that already there is a movement on foot to clip him of a very important item of patronage—the disposal of appointments for the Penitentiary. I am told that the effort will be made by the Legislature to take the appointments and management into its own hands The Grover Smith Miller wing will have a rough voyage for the next forty days and nights if the political barometer is not all wrong

In regard to the Senatorial election, no plausible speculations can be yet indulged in, further than that no one of the Salem ring seems to have the ghost of a chance Kelly's friends assert with great confidence that "things are working," while his opponents hazard their reputations that "things isn't working" Kelly dont look as though things were altogether lovely, but then he may be playing possum

Speaking of personal appearances, reminds me that a most remarkable and unprecedented transformation has taken place in the personal appearance of Speaker Ben Hayden When he was elected he wore one shoe out at the heel and the other boot out at the toe with other paraphernalia to match Having been elevated to the honorable station wherein he is the observed of all observers, his friends besieged him and besought him to slick up a little He must have a new and matched pair of boots a new shirt, a new hat etc Ben replied that he had no use for such things but if his friends insisted he would forego his natural tastes and place the arrangement of his apparel entirely in the hands of his friends Accordingly to day Ben is no longer "Dirty Ben" He walks the streets in all the glory of a bran new and shining plug hat a "biled" shirt and collar, store clothes and a substantial matched pair of brogan boots No French calf for Ben The transformation is beyond description, and I doubt if he could pass himself among half his constituents for Ben Hayden of Polk—unless he should open his mouth and wake the echoes with one of his unmistakable laughs But Ben is not proud nor puffed up He don't care two cents for the vanities and no matter how much the tailor and furnishing man may exhaust themselves on his "tackle" he never can be made to believe that one rig is intrinsically better than another

A certain element of the crowd here is beginning to thin out but certain other elements are constantly being added so that the immensity of the gathering is pretty well maintained The work of solving the Senatorial problem is now beginning in deep earnest and that brings to the capital throngs of borers who fancy each, that the destinies of the Webfoot nation hang on his individual efforts in the lobby I am satisfied from the assurances I hear from these parties that the country will either be saved or go to the demnition bow wows—which is entirely beyond my present visual penetration

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 15, 1870.

A Little History, Political and Personal.

The spectacle of Col. Kelly at Salem begging for a caucus nomination for United States Senator recalls vividly to many minds the action of Col. Kelly in regard to a caucus in 1856. Let us see how caucus was then respected by the man who now appeals to caucus as his only hope for political salvation.

In the OREGONIAN of December 6, 1856, there appeared an editorial article on the organization of the Legislature, then just effected, from which we reproduce the following paragraph:

> In the Council the Salem clique candidates were all defeated. Peebles of Marion was to have been elected President, but the Council elected Col. Kelly of Clackamas. They also elected T. McF. Patton (Whig) Enrolling Clerk, and generally disobeyed the orders issued from the Statesman office.

This was the OREGONIAN'S expression of exultation over the defeat of the Democratic programme, brought about by Col. Kelly.

No one conversant with the politics of that time needs to be told that the Statesman was the recognized organ of the Democratic party, the paper through whose columns the official utterances of the party were promulged. The election of Col. Kelly was therefore not merely a Statesman defeat; it was a defeat of the Democratic party. That it gave the opposition much comfort will be seen by the manner in which the OREGONIAN commented on the transaction. For the truth was Col. Kelly had bolted the Democratic caucus nomination, and had procured his election as President of the Council over Mr. Peebles, the regular Democratic nominee, by affiliating with the members opposed to the Democratic party.

The way it was done finely illustrates the Colonel's tact in affairs of that kind, and is a lesson forever for all who wish to assert their independence of caucus dictation. Col. Kelly and his friends assembled at an unseasonable hour of the night while the advocates of caucus were reposing in fancied security, and fixed up the whole thing. The bolting Democratic members, led by Kelly, and the Whig or opposition members with whom Kelly had solicited an alliance, met and arranged the programme. It was agreed that Kelly was to be chosen President of the Council over the regular nominee of the Democratic caucus; and in order to put as good a face on the matter as possible the arrangement was that Kelly was to profess great surprise when elected, that he was to declare at first that he could not accept, since a regard for the usages of his party restrained him; that the others were to insist on his acceptance, and that he was finally to yield, consent with apparent reluctance to be sworn in, and then perform the duties of President throughout the session. This programme was carried through to the letter. Kelly played the part assigned him without requiring a prompter; he was quite surprised at the "unexpected honor;" didn't see how he could accept, etc., etc.; but at last brought the tableau to an end by stepping up to be sworn in. The opposition members got part of the offices by this little arrangement, effected at the instance of Col. Kelly. There are a number of persons who are well acquainted with all the facts, substantially as above related. Col. Cornelius, who was then a member of the Council, no doubt remembers them perfectly. It was a sharp dodge of Col. Kelly's to advance himself at the expense of his party. Not long after he came out in open opposition to the organization, conspired with others to split the party in twain, ran as a candidate for Congress against the regular nominee of the party, and more than any other man, and more than any other dozen men, was the cause of that fatal division in the Democratic party of Oregon which threw it out of power and kept it out of power till this time. And now, at the earliest moment of its regained ascendancy, up comes Col. Kelly pleading for a caucus and urging the usages of the party in favor of his own election to the United States Senate! This is decidedly good. It is excellent. Caucus, which he once repudiated and trampled upon; caucus, which he once played a game to break down, is now appealed to by him as his only means of safety, and some of his friends are threatening personal violence against such Democratic members as may decline to go into a caucus at his bidding and for his behoof.

This history of what transpired some years ago is really interesting in view of what is transpiring now.

Governor Grover's Chinese Gong.

We hardly know how to speak with sufficient severity and yet in a courteous manner of the miserable demagoguery of Gov. Grover's inaugural. Is there nothing in the man but Chinaman? Certainly it would appear that there is nothing else. Why should he think it necessary to obtrude on the public this demagogue's essay on the Chinaman, at this time? To all people of sense in both parties such babble is disgusting enough even just before an election; but it is the more tolerable at such a time because, from the politician of small mind and limited resources, it is expected as a thing of course. But why should Gov. Grover have rehashed in his inaugural address one of his old campaign speeches? It is ill-timed, ill-arranged, ill-considered and illiterate. We shall examine it hereafter and show by incontestable proofs that what Gov. Grover says of Chinese immigration, the Burlingame treaty and the power of the States over the subject of immigration, proceeds either from gross and lamentable ignorance, or from an intentional perversion of facts, that is equally gross and lamentable. We do wish the Legislature would go on and enact laws against the Chinese to meet his views. Then the Supreme Court would settle the question in such a way as to silence Oregon demagogues forever.

Gov. Woods' Final Message.

The people of Oregon will not fail to contrast the final message of Gov. Woods with the document that Gov. Grover has seen fit to deliver as an inaugural address. Gov. Woods' message is notable for its liberal spirit, for its practical suggestions, for the harmony of its utterances with the existing condition of things in our State. Gov. Grover's inaugural address is a Democratic politician's poor stump speech; it is not addressed to the intelligence of the State, but to the ignorance and prejudice supposed to be prevailing, which can be played upon to secure partisan ends. Let these documents be compared, and the difference between them will appear sufficiently striking.

Some surprise has been expressed in Democratic circles because the Republican members of the Senate voted for Mr. Fay for President of that body. We can see no reason for such surprise. As a Democrat was to be President it was entirely proper for Republicans to vote for the most truly and thoroughly Democratic member of the body for that position. Mr. Fay is a man who stands by the principles of his party, and Republicans know where to find him and what to expect of him.

GOV. GROVER'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

AN ESSAY ON THE CHINAMAN, [illegible] AND DEVELOPMENT.

Gentlemen of the Senate, and House of Representatives: In assuming the duties of the Chief Executive it is becoming in me to acknowledge the ample favors which an all-wise Providence has lavished upon us as a people. Abundant harvests have been gathered, health prevails, and peace reigns throughout our borders. We are now entering upon an important period of our development as a State. Our history as a territorial government has passed into history. [illegible] of the Union has nearly reached the point of success, until we now stand on the threshold of success, strength and power with a territory ranking among the largest of the States, with a soil equal to the best, and a climate of a salubrity and healthfulness not excelled by any other, with resources for the employment of industry of great variety and extent, it would be difficult to predict for Oregon anything short of a most successful career.

In fact, with a creditable management of public affairs, nothing stands in the way of our prosperity.

At this juncture of our advancement a vital question presents itself for determination. Our State is sparsely peopled. It is capable of supporting a dense population. We are about to reach out and take by the hand thousands who will come and make their homes among us. Shall we look eastward to the older States and to Europe, or shall we look westward to Asia? Shall the Caucasian or shall the Mongolian be invited to be co-laborers with us in building up the State. Labor has been and will continue to be the capital of the immigrants. To European immigration America has heretofore offered higher wages and more abundant means of support than the home country labor. Therefore both skilled and unskilled have flown to us from Europe, constantly swelling our ranks and enriching the country with its industry and genius. To this source our nation has owed the wonderful impetus of our progress in wealth and numbers. In securing this population we have not cared to be homogeneous people, for they have been of the stock whence were derived the first American colonies. They have been bone of our bone and flesh of our flesh. Their labor has become represented in lands and houses, flocks and herds, orchards and vineyards, mills and merchandise, all with us and of us. Their property has borne its equal burden of taxation, and they have shared our perils and hardships in war and our responsibilities in peace. They speak our language and, respecting and cherishing the principles of our government, they mingle with us congenially in all our institutions. Their children are educated with ours, and both are reared together to be one people. We can, therefore, hail the coming of this class of immigrants in common with that from our older States, and welcome them among us with favor and satisfaction as brothers.

But what of the Mongolian? An acquaintance of twenty years with the Chinese upon the Pacific coast enables us to define his traits and qualifications with sufficient certainty. He is unequal, unacquainted with our language, or with any language having elements in common with ours. He is unaccustomed to our mode of thought either in a social or a religious point of view. He is incapable of assimilating himself to our habits of life, and even his education is a discipline the reverse of our forms of reason and action, both public and private; he is uninfluenced by our examples and observances. Our courts even can administer no oath which will bind his conscience. He is a Pagan in religion, and an absolutist in his habits of government. He comes with no family, but his associations are with harlots of his own race. While living here he is subject to laws unsuitable to his life, and when he is dead his body is returned to the land from whence he came. He respects neither our government nor our soil. There is not a single tie of common brotherhood between us and him; although we admit a common humanity, he denies even this.

These features of his character are ingrained in his being and are established as unchangeably by a history of four thousand years. His coming among us is not from love or even respect for our institutions. It is solely for gain; but his gains are not that of thrift which attaches itself to the country, becoming visible and taxable property bearing its proportion of the burdens of government, but are the results of delving in mines or saving for wages, all of which are hoarded and sent away to China. The ruined village and the deserted plain are places where he has wrought the most. The money which he has earned is represented nowhere in the fixed property of the country. China has been made richer and America has been made poorer by his presence. Can we build up our State upon the immigration of the Asiatic? The common answer is that we cannot: for American and European labor will never consent to contest the field with Chinese labor, and as soon as it is understood that the Mongolian is to be encouraged here, the European will cease to come. Which will we have? The wealthy, the intelligent, the virtuous, the accumulations and the associations of our kinsmen, or the vices of the Pagan and the absorbing and leaching process of his work among us. I need not answer. Recent demonstrations of the people fully respond to these inquiries.

A careful observation of the course of the Chinese Government will fully indicate the fact that it is the settled policy of that people to draw on the resources of all other nations in every available form, and their peculiar control over their own subjects facilitates the accomplishment of their purposes in this respect to a remarkable extent. The last hundred years have witnessed all Europe and America shipping to them their treasure and receiving in exchange the peculiar products of China. Wherever the Chinese have been permitted to go abroad they seem still to have been under the control of the home government to the extent at least that their earnings have been returned to their native land. To facilitate this policy of the Chinese Government they have lately procured the ratification of a treaty at Washington by which, as the compact declares, citizens of the United States visiting or residing in China shall enjoy the same privileges, immunities or exemption in respect to travel or residence as may be enjoyed by the citizens or subjects of the most favored nation, and reciprocally, the Chinese subjects visiting or residing in the United States, shall enjoy the same privileges, immunities and exemptions in respect to travel or residence as may be enjoyed by the citizens or subjects of the most favored nation. The pretended reciprocity of this treaty is an absurdity. The most favored nation stands upon the narrowest limits in China; but in the United States upon the broadest. By this treaty our people receive no enlargement of rights in China, but the Chinese are admitted freely to our unexacting wealth. They are even admitted to our mines without tax or tribute to our Government, a privilege which no other Government ever guaranteed to an alien.

China aggregates a population greater than that of all Europe and the United States combined. She hangs like a portentous cloud over our political horizon. Her people may swarm in upon us like locusts. Their coming will unhinge labor, degrade industry, demoralize the country, and by claiming and receiving the ballot may upturn our system of government altogether; for we have the most serious apprehensions, from the present policy of the General Government to enfranchise all inferior and servile races and to encourage their migration to the United States, that the ballot system may become despicable. This view alarms those who revere our institutions, and who believe that intelligence, virtue and honor constitute the only safe base of a free Government.

It is said that if we restrain the immigration or importation of Chinese, we abandon the hereditary policy of the Government. This objection is not well taken. Our Government in this respect was framed upon the idea that the States held the right to admit or exclude such persons as they should deem proper, and Congress was prohibited from even excluding any class of persons previous to the year 1808.—[Article 1, Sec. 9, United States Constitution.] Since that date Congress has exercised this right by prohibiting the importation of Africans, and the naval power of the Government has been used to enforce the prohibition. Our Government has removed Indians from States and Territories, and from one Territory to another, and confined them to limited boundaries. The States have exercised the right to exclude paupers and other classes of persons constantly from the very beginning of our history. The States now hold the right to admit or exclude such foreign persons as they choose to admit or exclude, subject only to the treaty making power. By the 31st section of the Bill of Rights in our Constitution, the Legislature has authority to restrain and regulate the immigration to this State of persons not qualified to become citizens of the United States. Were it not for the existence of this treaty, the State could exercise the power to protect itself against the incursions of such of the Chinese as it should deem detrimental to its well being.

I regard it, therefore, to be of the gravest consequence that the late treaty with China and the policy upon which it is based receive our earnest and vigorous protest. Upon the subject of immigration I herewith submit a communication received from a committee of the Board of Trustees of the Labor Exchange Association of Portland, and recommend the same to your favorable consideration, as emanating from a source worthy of high respect.

THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT

Since your last meeting, by the promulgation of the so called Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, Oregon has been deprived of the first element of its Constitution, guaranteed by her admission into the Union—the right to regulate suffrage. In the Farewell Address of Washington we have the following remarkable and prophetic admonition: "Toward the preservation of your Government and the permanency of your present happy state it is requisite not only that you speedily discountenance irregular opposition to its acknowledged authority, but also that you resist with care the spirit of innovation upon its principles, however specious the pretext. One method of assault may be to effect in the forms of the Constitution alterations which impair the energy of the system, and thus undermine what cannot be directly overthrown." The "spirit of invasion upon the principles" of the Constitution of the United States, of which we have been first warned, has already been abroad, and it has adopted the very method of assault specifically pointed out. It has struck at the vital forces of our system and sought to implant therein the essential elements of tyranny. It has attacked the principle of local self-government in the States, which is the chief corner-stone of our whole political fabric, while discountenancing irregular opposition to even assumed authority on the part of the General Government. In this respect I shall not forbear placing on record my settled conviction that the two amendments last promulgated as constituents of the Constitution of the United States—affecting, as they do, such violence to the inherent and reserved rights of the several States—have never been legally sanctioned; and while we yield to superior force, exercised in the form of law, let our Constitution stand, sustained by the will of her people, as a living monument of the former dignity of the States of the Union, and as a landmark of American liberty.

CONVENTION TO AMEND THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES.

In order to cure the numerous complications and inconsistencies in which the late disturbed condition of the country has thrown our fundamental laws, both State and National, and at the proper time I would recommend that Oregon join with her sister States in proposing a call for a convention of all the States, to form an Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, to which, when fairly ratified by the legislatures or conventions of three-fourths of the States elected, all the States would cheerfully acquiesce and conform their local Constitutions thereto. This course will probably become necessary in order that the co-ordinate branches of the general Government be better instructed in their rights, and that the rights of the States be redefined and acknowledged.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

The State is in want of public buildings, while every succeeding year shows that the necessity for their erection is growing more and more imperative. Prudence, indeed, would dictate that we proceed slowly with these works, but, nevertheless, we should be making some progress in this direction. I would therefore suggest that provision be made during the present session for the gradual erection of some one of the public buildings most needed.

STATE UNIVERSITY AND AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

By the 10th Section of the Act of Congress of the 27th of September, 1850, making donations of public lands in Oregon, the quantity of two townships of land were donated to aid in the establishment of a University in Oregon. Also by the 11th Section of the same Act there were granted for the same purpose parts of what were known as the Oregon City claim. By the 4th Section of the Act of Congress of February 14th, 1859, admitting the State into the Union, it was provided that seventy-two sections of land shall be set apart and reserved for the use and support of a State University, to be selected by the Governor of said State, to be appropriated and applied in such manner as the Legislature of said State may prescribe, for the purpose aforesaid, but for no other purpose. These lands have been located, and many of them sold, and the funds arising from the sales have been invested to the use of the University fund, but what amounts I have not now the means of stating. These funds, however, have, by the terms of the Constitution, been inhibited from expenditure until ten years from the adoption of the Constitution unless the same should be otherwise disposed of by the consent of Congress for common school purposes. The period of ten years' limitation from the adoption of the Constitution has elapsed and Congress has not only not consented to these funds being otherwise disposed of, but has specially enjoined by act subsequent to the framing of our Constitution, that as to the seventy-two sections of land, they should be applied to the use and support of a University, but for no other purpose. These funds, therefore, are subject to being marshalled now and of being devoted to the establishment of a State University. Allied to these provisions of Congress for a State University is the act of the 2d of July, 1862, making a grant of 90,000 acres of public lands for the establishment of an Agricultural College. This grant has been accepted by the State and provisions for the location of the lands have been selected, and of excellent quality and location for the purpose of establishing the Agricultural College within the time required by the act making the grant. The Legislature at its last session designated Corvallis College as the Agricultural College of the State, but this was limited to the term of two years, and it would appear that to meet the purpose of the grant, steps for a permanent location of this institution should be taken. The report of the chief officers of the Corvallis College touching the connection of that institution with the Agricultural College, submitted to me, is herewith submitted. The report shows that the college has performed the duty assigned it by every available means, and I commend the suggestions therein to your favorable notice. Competency of support is as necessary to success in institutions of learning, as in other undertakings. If the University funds and the fund arising from the Agricultural College grant could be united and properly administered, they would constitute a solid foundation for a State institution of a high order, one that would assist greatly to hold up the standard of education in the State.

PENITENTIARY.

Our penitentiary has always been a serious charge upon the State. This has resulted from the want of the appliances and the discipline necessary to engage the convicts in a well-adapted system of continuous industry. Contract system of employment is probably one of the most humane and at the same time one of the most valued means of reform in public prisons. There is ample water power within the prison grounds now belonging to the State, available for all ordinary mechanical uses. Also a liberal amount of land adapted to prison use so that it will be only a matter of organization and the labor with a moderate outlay of money in the initiation of the work, to enable this institution not only to become self sustaining, but possibly to render a revenue to the State. If the Assembly should consider that further legislation is necessary to enable the Superintendent to place the penitentiary on a self sustaining basis, I respectfully ask your attention thereto.

FINANCE.

At the last biennial session of the Legislature, no appropriations were made for the State government during the following two years. The result has been that two annual collections of revenue have accumulated in the treasury, while the public debts and liabilities have been outstanding and drawing interest against the State. I urge early action of your body upon this important subject, in order that justice be done the public creditors, and that the further accumulation of interest be stopped. It is apprehended that on account of the absence of means to defray the State expenses, certain warrants, though issued for necessary contingencies, have been without legal authority and will demand legislation beyond mere appropriation to secure their payment by the Treasurer. It would be just in these cases that warrants issued for fixed salaries and allowances be legalized and paid in full; but where a greater amount has been allowed to any claimant than would have been demanded, had the State not been in distress for want of appropriation, I think the law authorizing the payment should provide for an equitable adjustment.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.

The fourth section of the act of Congress of February 14th, 1859, provides that five per centum of the net proceeds of the sales of all public lands lying within each State, which shall be sold by Congress after the admission of said State into the Union, after deducting all expenses, shall be paid to said State for the purpose of making public roads and internal improvements, as the Legislature shall direct. The amount of this fund should now be considerable, and there are several works of great importance and commanding necessity, which the State should push forward or encourage, by every constitutional means. The State is also entitled to the proceeds of the sales of five hundred thousand acres of land, under the Act of September 4th, 1841, on her admission into the Union. This grant was specifically made "for the purpose of internal improvement," but by article 8, section 2, of our Constitution, this fund is enumerated as a part of the provision for common schools, if Congress shall consent to such an appropriation. The consent of Congress has never been given to this division. I recommend that specific application be made to Congress for its consent to the use of this fund for common schools. According to the provisions of our Constitution, in case this consent is withheld, the fund may then be treated as available for internal improvements.

Specific grants of lands, in liberal amounts, have been made by Congress for railroads and wagon roads within the State, and I am happy to note the fact that, stimulated by this assistance, good wagon roads have been made, opening up communication to every part of the interior, and railroads have been projected to connect Oregon and California with the East by way of the North Pacific line, while short lines are to connect us with other leading points of communication. Fifty miles of the Oregon and California Railroad, connecting Salem, the Capital, with Portland, the metropolis, have already been completed, and we now feel the impulse of more rapid communication. These public works should be fostered, and, as far as the State has power or influence, should be made to inure to the benefit of all parts of the State equally.

TAX ON INSURANCE COMPANIES.

Foreign insurance companies are carrying on an extensive business within our State. They receive the protection of our laws and derive profits from their business here without being subject to any proportionate contribution to support our Government. It is customary in other States to tax such corporations upon some proper basis; for instance, a per centage upon their gross receipts within the State; and I am informed that such assessments are regarded by the parties interested as but just, and are cheerfully paid. The revenue inuring to the State from this source, under well revised laws for that purpose, providing the usual rate of tax, alone would approximate the sum of ten thousand dollars annually. As these insurance companies do business throughout the State I would recommend that the present law requiring them to deposit securities with the County Treasurer in the county where they hold their principal offices, be so amended as to require the same to be deposited with the State Treasurer, as more appropriate and better suited to public convenience.

PAY OF OFFICERS.

The important duties and the growing responsibilities which are cast upon the Executive office indicate that the office of Private Secretary will be one of labor and constant attention to business. As no other clerical force is allowed, it appears to me that such pay should be provided for this office as would at least secure the services of a competent book keeper in an ordinary mercantile house. The sum of six hundred dollars per annum, now allowed by law, is entirely inadequate. The same remark is applicable to the salary of the Assistant Secretary of State, which is four hundred dollars per annum. These two offices require competent, capable and responsible men, exclusively devoted to their several duties. Such cannot be secured without

The Summer is past and Autumn is here,
The finest season throughout the whole year,
But the days grow cool, and all must prepare
For warmer Clothing in Winter to wear.
Well, KOHN & FISHEL, of Clothing renown,
Have the best supply ever brought to town.
They have all sorts of coats and pants that will match,
That will last a whole year and not need a patch,
There are sacks, vests and shirts and a thousand things more.
Which they offer you cheaper than ever before.
You all need the clothes and they need the tin,
Then get a new suit and let Winter go in.

CITY.

OLD CHANGES.—It is past fifteen years since the first coach rolled out of this city, one Sunday [illegible], carrying the United States mail. The [illegible] traveled then was 60 miles to Salem. Old Sevills, who drove the last mail coach out of this city south to Salem, on Sunday, the [illegible] was the driver of the first coach, fifteen years ago. Then, the arrival of a coach in Salem was a matter of nearly as much interest, and occasioned about as much rejoicing as will the arrival, now soon, of the iron horse, with passengers on iron rails. Those were joyous times in Oregon, as all old-time residents will [illegible]. The telegraph was completed very [illegible] these events to Oregon City, and the first dispatch ever sent over the wires in Oregon [illegible]:

OREGON CITY, Nov. 16th, 1855—5 P. M.
Compliments of the Pacific Telegraph Company to the editor of the OREGONIAN. How are you now? Give us your hand. The machines work—more to-morrow.
CHAS. F. JOHNSON.

The [illegible], commenting upon this brilliant [illegible], asks: "Who says this is not [illegible], that the people at the north-[illegible] are not enterprising?"

"[illegible] Legislature in session that winter at Oregon City was reported weekly by telegraph to the OREGONIAN. Witness the progress to the present day.

ASTORIA ITEMS.—Under date of Astoria, Sept. [illegible] we have the following:

The bark Zephyr was towed to sea on Saturday, and the bark Cambridge on Sunday. The [illegible] arrived in fourteen days from San Francisco, on Saturday...... The Railroad surveying party is about fifteen miles from here, getting along [illegible] to-day, the weather being so [illegible] as to interrupt their operations in the [illegible]...... The Summer House on Clatsop has closed for the season, everybody having left. Some say that the property is sold to parties in Portland, others say not. The Custom House is going up rapidly; it is beginning to show its shape...... There appears to be some controversy in the papers about the yacht Owl sailing with the winner [illegible] last summer. It is all a mistake, as the Owl never sailed with the victor of last year's race, but with a boat that was not in the race, and the Owl was very glad to go another [illegible]...... Gen. Holman, in charge of the Custom House, has been very sick [illegible], but the work still goes on...... The County Court has had a long session, and [illegible] last Saturday. They have [illegible] several of the town proprietors [illegible]. The contract for lengthening the wharf at Fort Stevens 300 feet, has been awarded to Messrs. Saunders & Packard.

[illegible].—Night before last the residents in a [illegible] portion of this city sent to headquarters for some one to come and take into custody a suspicious hombre whom they had placed [illegible] for molesting them in their peaceful [illegible]. The police found the man and took him [illegible] in a place where he had no business, and he should in all probability have [illegible] to court for his misbehavior. He was lodged in the county jail over night, but [illegible] the "alarmed populace" weakened, [illegible] had time (or something) to come up and swear before a judge a complaint, hence the man had to be set scot free. It is a handy [illegible] to have an officer take a disturber into custody, [illegible] handy for the officer, who might [illegible] to be taken, in case the prisoner [illegible] at large without any complaint. It is in such instances as this [illegible] co-operation on the part of the public [illegible] anybody is disturbed in the night time [illegible] should know that it is not sufficient to put the fellow away in the hands of an [illegible].

THE CLOCK.—The dials for the clock, [illegible] in the spire upon Odd Fellows' [illegible] in this city, arrived by the steamer [illegible], and were opened at Henrichsen's [illegible] yesterday. There are four [illegible]. They are made of glass 6 feet square, [illegible] inch in thickness. The dial is [illegible], the characters painted [illegible], which can be seen plainly, [illegible] judge, a dozen or more blocks distant. At night time the interior space will be lighted so that people can as well tell the time o' night as the time o' day. The movements and [illegible] are [illegible]. The bell is said to be a [illegible] one, weighing 1,000 pounds.

EAST PORTLAND BRIDGES.—Bids were opened at the Court House yesterday for the construction of two proposed bridges in East Portland, [illegible] by the county, or at least one or the other of them. The bridge on J street (talked of) 450 feet in length, thirty-six feet roadway. [illegible] on L [illegible] 1,140 feet in length, 35 feet [illegible]. Bids were as follows:

	J Street.	L Street.
[illegible]	$4,064 50	$7,125 00
[illegible]	3,900 00	7,296 00
[illegible]	4,863 20	7,759 00

[illegible] was accepted by the Court, as Judge [illegible] was absent.

HON. A. S. MERCER.—The Transcript notes the [illegible] of Mr. Mercer at Olympia as follows: Hon. A. S. Mercer, well known to fame for the [illegible] emigration scheme, which brought so [illegible] female immigrants from Boston to Puget Sound [illegible] years ago, and later the agent of a [illegible] Portland line of vessels, has been [illegible] during the past week. He proposes [illegible] Chehalis valley and various sections of the Sound, and will probably be heard of [illegible] indefatigable 'rustler,' commend [illegible] Mercer.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.—We are informed by [illegible] from Fort Lapwai, Idaho, that a [illegible] occurred at that place on the 6th [illegible] L. Dean. He was examining an old [illegible] made pistol, which had [illegible] for some time, and in drawing [illegible] his thumb slipped, discharging the pistol, which blew off the thumb [illegible] the palm of the left hand in a terrible manner, wounding him severely in the [illegible]. Dr. C. R. Greenleaf, U. S. A., dressed [illegible] and is doing as well as can be expected.

LUMBER SALES.—At Estes & Stimson's office [illegible] ascertained that the actual sales of [illegible] the company during the month of August foot up the sum of 425,000 feet. [illegible] include the whole amount of manufacture [illegible] the same period. The other mills of [illegible] doing equally as well, we presume; [illegible] be seen that the building interests of [illegible] wise in a suffering condition.

GEN. W. T. SHERMAN.—This most distinguished [illegible] U. S. A., the hero of the March to [illegible], will visit Oregon on the next steamer, [illegible] reliably informed. It will not be necessary [illegible] upon our citizens the matter of extending [illegible] him a reception worthy of the occasion. That will undoubtedly be done.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.—The Rev. Mr. Bonnel, [illegible] has arrived and will deliver his lecture [illegible] Holy Catholic Church" this evening at [illegible] Church. Hour for service, 7½ o'clock [illegible] the Rector and several others of the [illegible] be present and officiate.

LABOR EXCHANGE.—The following applications [illegible] yesterday at the Portland Labor Exchange: Clerks, 1; dishwasher, 1; farm hand, 1, [illegible] man and wife, 1; porter, 1; waiter, [illegible] 1; total, 8. We are under obligation [illegible] Drake for favors.

[illegible].—There were no indications of [illegible] having been a railroad accident at [illegible] Portland, at 3 o'clock yesterday—if we except [illegible] in the trestle work which is being [illegible]. The locomotives and cars have been [illegible] to the shops for repairs.

CHANGE OF TIME.—As will be seen by reference [illegible] advertisement of the Oregon and California [illegible] Company, the road has been extended [illegible] Woods, and a change in the time of [illegible] and departures has consequently been [illegible].

BUENA VISTA.—We understand that lately a [illegible] at Buena Vista, in which A. Wei[illegible] [illegible], but further than that we could [illegible] particulars.

[illegible] CARGO.—We understand that the bark [illegible] will load at Cementville with [illegible] for Shanghai, China.

[illegible] Columbia Degree Lodge will meet [illegible] this evening. Interest-

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

REGULAR MEETING, SEPT. 14TH.

The regular meeting of the Common Council was held at the Council Chamber last evening, at the usual hour.

Present Messrs. Breck, Congle, Cree, Hallock, and Lewis.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Messrs. Northrup & Drew, contractors, upon application, were granted permission to grade and improve certain parts of Seventh street, in front of block 191.

The Committee on Fire and Water reported concerning the establishment of fire limits within the city; recommending that application be made to the Legislature for an act authorizing the same.

The same Committee reported that they had contracted with Mr. James Bennett of this city for 1,000 feet of leading hose for the use of the Fire Department at $1 65 per foot. The report was withdrawn.

The Committee on Streets and Public Property reported a proposition from W. W. Chapman to convey title to the city for seven Park blocks lying between Salmon and Mill streets, for the sum of $7,000. The matter was referred with instructions to report by ordinance.

The City Marshal reported a series of rules and regulations for the government of the police. The communication was placed on file.

Warrants were authorized in payment of claims against the city as follows: H. L. Pittock, $5 92; C. H. Myers, $5 20; Perry G. Baker, $20; Oregon Iron Works, $7; F. Neiber, $1; Johnson Bros., $115; F. Eberhard, $9 50; Donnerberg & Barrett, $55 81; Silsby Manufacturing Company, $433 50.

On contracts for street improvements, warrants were ordered as follows: Third and South Third Street Fund, W. H. Butts, $77 28; E. Street Fund, H. Ralston, $207 20; South Front Street Fund, H. Ralston, $498 77; Third Street and North Street Fund, P. G. Baker, $5,114 09.

An ordinance from the Committee on Streets and Public Property, authorizing the purchase of all Park blocks on the Lownsdale estate at $3,000 each, was read first and second times and laid over.

An ordinance authorizing the sale of 12 inches of lot 8 in block 14 to Ira Goodenough, for the sum of $200; read first time and laid over.

An ordinance adopting the report of the viewers appointed to view certain streets in the south part of the city, was read first and second times.

An ordinance to amend the new ordinance—so called—was introduced by Mr. Lewis, proposing to leave out the Third ward entirely.

On motion to suspend the rules and place the ordinance upon its final passage, an extended discussion arose, in which members generally participated. The ordinance was lost by the following vote: Ayes—Messrs. Congle and Lewis. Nays—Messrs. Breck, Cree and Hallock.

An ordinance making an appropriation of $1,000 for the improvement of the public grounds, was passed.

Resolutions were adopted authorizing notice to be given that the Council propose improving Seventh Street, from the South line of Clay street to the North line of the Caruther's Addition. And to change the grade of First street from 93 to 95 feet above the base of grades at the intersection of Hall street.

Mayor Goldsmith called the attention of the Council to the fact that General W. T. Sherman would soon arrive in Portland, and suggested the propriety of appointing a committee to make suitable arrangements for his reception.

On motion a Committee of three—consisting of Messrs. Lewis, Congle and Hallock—were appointed, to confer with a committee of the citizens of Portland, to make all necessary arrangements for the reception.

On motion the Council adjourned.

FAREWELL PERFORMANCES.—As will be seen by an advertisement in another column the Great Overland Circus will exhibit twice in this city on Saturday next. Mr. James Cooke, the world renowned clown and jester, will appear in conjunction with the talented members of this mammoth establishment.

ORO FINO THEATRE.—A new theatrical season will be commenced at Oro Fino Theater on next Saturday evening. Miss Sallie Hinckley, the talented actress who arrived here last evening from San Francisco, will make her debut. The bill for the opening night will soon be published.

CLEANED OUT.—The fire cisterns in the upper ward have all been cleaned out this last week. Judging from the cart loads of dirt taken out of that one at the intersection of Columbia and Front streets, this was considerable of a job.

WOOL FOR BOSTON.—We observe on the wharf a quantity of wool from up the valley, consigned to parties in Boston, Mass. It will go forward from this port to San Francisco in a few days.

PARK BLOCKS.—At Russell & Ferry's office, this morning at 10 o'clock, certain of the Park blocks will be offered for sale at public auction.

THE INAUGURATION

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

SALEM, Wednesday, Sept. 14, 1870.

The Legislative proceedings are unimportant—merely preparatory to the Inauguration. At half past 10 o'clock both House took a recess till 2 P. M. A procession was immediately formed under the direction of the Committee and Senator Brown of Baker, Marshal of the Day, in the following order:

1. The House and its officers.
2. The Senate and its officers.
3. Members of the Bar.
4. Supreme Court.
5. Officers of the State.
6. Chaplain.
7. Governor and Governor elect.
8. Members of the Press.
9. Citizens.

The procession, preceded by the Capital Band, marched to Reed's Opera House, halted, opened ranks, and the Governors marched through, the procession closing in reversed order.

Upon reaching the auditorium of the theater the personages composing the procession were arranged as follows: The President of the Senate and Speaker of the House occupied the front center of the stage; the Governor and Governor elect, a sofa, a little back and on the right center; Supreme Court, back, left center and left; Chaplain on the right center; State officers, back centre; officers of the two Houses on the right. The Senators and Assemblymen occupied the right and left front of the auditorium, facing the stage, spectators in the rear and in the dress circle. Some lady pianists occupied the orchestra seats, and reporters had a table just to the left of the orchestra. The stage was tastefully decorated with banners and flowers in vases.

Everybody being disposed in their proper places President Fay arose and stated the object of the Convention to be to inaugurate Hon. L. F. Grover, Governor elect of the State. The ceremonies were then conducted in the following order: Prayer by the Chaplain, Rev. S. C. Adams; music by the Band; Governor elect introduced by Governor Woods; administration of the oath of office by Chief Justice, P. P. Prim, of the Supreme Court; Inaugural Address by Gov. Grover; music—piano; re-formation of the procession and march back to the Legislative halls.

Of the Inaugural I can only say here that about one third of it was devoted to an elaborate discussion of the questions of Caucasian and Mongolian immigrations as affecting the destinies of the country. It was the old argument as presented by Mr. Grover on the stump. Then followed a statement of the Democratic ideas in relation to the late Amendment to the Constitution of the United States—another rehash of the stump arguments of the late canvass. The matters of school lands and funds, University lands and funds and Agricultural College were referred to in general terms as matters of importance and requiring careful legislation. He referred to the finances of the State as in an unfortunate condition, requiring prompt legislation in order to relieve the several departments of the State Government from embarrassment and to stop needless expense. He expressed the opinion that some warrants had been drawn which were unlawful, and that these and their financial features called for a little practical "equitable adjustment." [Joke—applause.] He recommended that the funds accruing from lands donated by Congress for internal improvements be diverted to the school fund; that insurance companies be taxed; and that steps be taken looking to the organization of a separate Supreme Court. These are, briefly, the main points of the address.

WISTAR'S WILD CHERRY BALSAM.—This Balsamic compound has become a home fixture. Let all who suffer, and have in vain attempted to cure their coughs, colds, bronchial or pulmonary complaints, make use of this unequaled remedy.

THE OREGON LEGISLATURE.

Sixth Biennial Session.

SENATE—Morning Session.

SALEM, Wednesday, Sept. 14.

The Senate convened at 10 A. M., the President in the chair.

The session was opened with prayer by Rev S. C. Adams.

The Journal of yesterday having been read Mr. Cornelius raised the question as to the correctness of the designation therein of the chief clerical office of the Senate.

After some discussion it was settled by a decision of the President, that the proper designation was Chief Clerk, instead of Secretary, as it appeared in the Journal.

H. J. R. No. 1, requesting the Secretary of State to furnish members of the Legislative Assembly with copies of the General Laws of 1860 Session Laws of 1864, Journals, etc., and similar volumes to Justices of the Supreme Court, was received by message from the House.

Mr. Cornelius moved to lay the resolution on the table. Carried.

The House joint resolution No. 7, requesting the Secretary of State to furnish the members each with two dollars worth of postage stamps, was received by message from the House.

Mr. Hendershott moved that the Senate concur. The question being taken there were, ayes 10; nays, 8, so the resolution was lost, having failed to receive a constitutional majority.

The President announced that the time had arrived for the ceremony of inauguration.

On motion of Mr. Hendershott, the Senate took a recess until 2 o'clock, P. M.

Afternoon Session.

Mr. President:—I will now announce the standing committees of the Senate:

Judiciary—Messrs. Stout, Baldwin, and Herman.

Ways and Means—Messrs. Cochran, Brown of Baker, and Pershbaker.

Elections—Messrs. Hendershott, Holtzclaw and Cornelius.

Claims—Messrs. Patterson, Hoult, and Powell.

Corporations—Messrs. Burch, Crawford and Cornelius.

Counties—Messrs. Hendershott and Brown of Marion.

Military Affairs—Messrs. Holtzclaw, Burch and Cornelius.

Commerce—Messrs. Brown of Baker, Stout and Witham.

Education—Messrs. Crawford, Baldwin and Moore.

Engrossed Bills—Messrs. Trevitt, Holtzclaw and Witham.

Enrolled Bills—Messrs. Baldwin, Brown of Baker, and Moore.

Roads and Highways—Messrs. Herman, Lieuallan and Hoult.

Public Lands—Messrs. Hendershott, Cochran and Pershbaker.

Federal Relations—Messrs. Lieuallan, Holtzclaw and Watts.

Mining—Messrs. Holtzclaw, Lieuallan and Pershbaker.

Printing—Messrs. Trevitt, Herman and Powell.

Railroads—Messrs. Cochran, Baldwin and Herman.

On motion of Mr. Cornelius fifty copies of the list of standing committees were ordered printed.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE.

House Joint Resolution No. 5, providing for a committee of three on the part of each House, to take into consideration the questions of the care and treatment of the insane, the propriety of the State building an asylum and taking care of the insane, and to receive and consider all propositions and communications concerning the same, and to report, if practicable, as early as the 28th inst.

Mr. Baldwin moved to concur, which prevailed, ayes, 19; nays, none.

There was some discussion here on a motion by Mr. Cochran to appoint an additional committee on railroads.

The President decided that the Committee on Railroads, under the rules, is a standing committee of the Senate.

Mr. Trevitt presented the petition of W. T. Newby, contestant for the seat of Dr. Watts, of Yamhill, and on his motion the petition and accompanying documents were referred to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. Trevitt offered a resolution, which was adopted, providing that officers of the Senate be furnished a like number of newspapers as furnished the members.

Mr. Burch offered a resolution providing for the printing of five hundred copies of the Governor's Biennial Message, the Inaugural Address and accompanying documents.

Mr. Cornelius moved an amendment providing for two thousand. Lost.

Mr. Trevitt moved three thousand. Lost.

Mr. Cornelius moved one thousand, which amendment was accepted by the orginal mover, and the resolution was adopted, ayes, 18; nays, 1.

Mr. Baldwin moved that the contested case of election from Douglas county, between Herman and Mosher, be referred to the Committee on Elections. Carried.

Mr. Hendershott offered a resolution that the Secretary of State be requested to furnish suitable committee rooms. Adopted.

Mr. Hendershott gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill for the suppression of intemperance.

On the motion of Mr. Burch, the case of contest from Benton county, between Witham and Strahan, was referred to the Committee on Elections.

The following notices of bills were given:

Mr. Baldwin—A bill to define the boundaries of Grant county.

Mr. Fay—To tax unnaturalized foreigners.

Mr. Hendershott—To increase the school tax from two to four mills; to regulate the sale of swamp lands, and to regulate the sale of public lands donated and belonging to the State.

Mr. Cochran—To amend the election laws.

Mr. Baldwin—To create a State Board of Equalization to examine and correct the assessments of the several counties.

Mr. Trevitt asked and had leave to introduce a bill to provide for the relinquishment to the United States of the title to lands in certain cases for sites to lighthouses, etc. Also a bill giving the consent of the State to the purchase by the United States, of sites for lighthouses, etc. Both bills were read a first and second time and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

On motion of Mr. Cochran, the Senate adjourned till 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

HOUSE—Morning Session.

SALEM, Wednesday, Sept. 14th, 1870.

The House was called to order at 9:05 A. M. by Speaker Hayden, all the members being present.

The Journal of yesterday was read, corrected and approved.

INAUGURATION PROGRAMME.

Mr. Lockhart, from the Committee of Arrangements relative to inauguration ceremonies, submitted the following report: That a procession form at 10½ o'clock A. M. in front of the State House, in the following order. 1st. The House and its officers; 2d. The Senate and its officers; 3d. Members of the bar; 4th. Supreme Court; 5th. Officers of State; 6th. Chaplain; 7th, Governors; 8th. Members of the press; 9th. Citizens. The procession, after being so formed, will march in regular order to Reed's Opera House, preceded by the band, and will then open ranks, the Governors marching through and the procession closing in reversed order after them. After all are seated the President of the Senate will call the house to order, and the following exercises will take place. First, prayer by the Chaplain; second, music, "Star Spangled Banner;" third, Inaugural; fourth, benediction. Upon concluding the exercises, the procession will reform in the same order, and preceded by the band, march to the State House and open ranks, passing in as before. Mr. A. H. Brown, of Baker county, will act as marshal of the day. Rev. S. C. Adams, of Salem, will officiate as chaplain. A salute of 14 guns, will be fired at 10:30 A. M.

Mr. Dorriss moved to amend the programme by inserting "Hail Columbia" as an additional order.

The Speaker ruled the motion out of order and the report was adopted.

COMMITTEES—A VETO MESSAGE.

The Speaker stated that he would announce the committees in the afternoon. He also announced that he was in receipt of a message, which he understood to be a veto from Governor Woods of the Chinese bill passed at the last session, he desired to know what action the House would take in reference to it. After some discussion on the point of order, the message was laid upon the table temporarily, Mr. Whiteaker pledging himself to call it up again.

PETITIONS OF CONTESTANTS.

Mr. Whiteaker presented a petition from A. Shuck and Wm. M. Townsend, contesting the seats occupied by the members from Yamhill county, and moved it be referred to the Committee on Elections, when it shall be organized.

Mr. Starkweather thought the reference could not be made until the committee had been announced by the Speaker.

Mr. Hare moved to amend by appointing a special committee of five to investigate the contested election cases.

Mr. Whiteaker insisted that the standing Committee on Elections would be the proper committee to attend to the matter.

Mr. Whalley moved to lay the petition on the table temporarily. The motion failed.

Mr. Hare argued in favor of his motion; that the standing Committee on Elections would have enough to do without investigating the special cases of the contestants, and that a special committee could do much more toward securing fair and impartial justice to the parties concerned.

Mr. Dorriss objected to the motion, on the ground that, if one case should be allowed a special committee, every other one would have to be provided for in like manner, and this would claim the time of too many members. He believed one committee could do greater justice than several.

Mr. Helm thought it would be imposing a great deal of labor upon the standing committee to require it to investigate the contested cases, and had not made up his mind as to what reference he would ask for the petition of the Benton county members, which he intended soon to introduce.

Mr. Starkweather deemed it very unparliamentary and unsafe to make a reference of such importance before it was known of whom the Committee on Elections would consist.

Mr. Whalley moved to postpone the reference or consideration of the petition until to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Alexander moved to make the reference of the petition the special order for 2 o'clock P. M.

Mr. Lockhart raised the point of order that rule 38 requires petitions to lie over one day and to be acted upon in their order.

The Speaker ruled the point not well taken; a reference not being such action as the rule contemplates.

Mr. Starkweather—I suggest the impropriety of setting a special order at so early an hour. The inaugural ceremony will occupy our time.

Mr. O'Regan—I rise for information. I desire to know how long it will take to go through with the inauguration ceremony.

Mr. Speaker—I do not know how long it will take to talk and pray and shoot, but I presume we can get through by 2 o'clock. [Laughter.]

Mr. Alexander's motion prevailed.

Mr. Helm presented the petition of D. Carlyle and W. R. Calloway, contesting the seats of the members from Benton county. It was made the special order for 2 o'clock P. M.

COMMITTEE ON INSANE ASYLUM.

Mr. Whiteaker offered a joint resolution to provide for the appointment of a special committee to consist of three members on the part of the House and two on the part of the Senate, to consider the question as to the proper management of the Insane Asylum. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Dunbar gave notice of his intention to offer an amendment to Rule 8, so as to increase the Committee on Elections from three to five.

At 10:15 A. M. the House took a recess until 2 o'clock P. M.

Afternoon Session.

The House met at 2 o'clock P. M. Speaker Hayden in the chair.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

The Speaker announced the following Standing Committees:

Elections—Alexander, McCoy and Quimby.

Ways and Means—Whiteaker, Ostrander and Earhart.

Education—Lockhart, Hutchins and Hare.

Judiciary—Helm, Dorriss, McLane, Olney and Whalley.

Military Affairs—Savage, Munkers and Starkweather.

Roads and Highways—Hunter, Grant and Davenport.

Engrossed Bills—Waldron, Porter and Holman.

Enrolled Bills—Rader, Elkins and Loughlin.

Indian Affairs—Thompson, Comegys and Hussey.

Printing—Fulton, Drain, and Apperson.

Incorporations—Dorris, Clark, and Mills.

Commerce—Porter, Burnett and O'Regan.

Counties—Hutchinson, Fulton and Dunbar.

Federal Relations—Grant, DeShiel, and Paquet.

Mining—McCoy, Wells and Kelly.

Public Lands—Burnett, Amis and Harrison.

Mr. Speaker—I desire to say that with the limited time at my disposal it is difficult to make up the committees as they should be. I have endeavored to do the best I could, and if there has been injustice done it has not been through design. There was one member, Mr. Dunn, for whom I could not find a place without violating my rule of putting two Democrats and one Republican on each committee. There will be committees hereafter appointed, probably, on which he can serve.

Mr. Paquet moved to print 100 copies of the list of committees. The motion prevailed.

THE YAMHILL CONTESTANTS.

Mr. Whiteaker—In order that no question as to the order of business arise, I will move that the petition of the contestants for the seats of the members from Yamhill county, be taken from the table. The motion prevailed.

Mr. Whiteaker—I now renew my motion to refer the petition to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. Hare—I renew my motion to amend by referring the petition to a special committee of five, who shall consider all these cases of contests.

Mr. Whiteaker—I will simply say that I hope the motion to amend will not prevail, and that my motion will prevail; I have said enough.

Mr. Hare withdrew his motion.

Mr. Dorris moved to increase the Committee on Elections to five.

Mr. Speaker ruled the motion out of order, as proposing to change a standing rule without due notice.

Mr. Whiteaker's motion prevailed.

OTHER CONTESTANTS.

Mr. Whiteaker presented a petition from C. F. Beattie, H. A. Straight and A. Carmichael, contesting the seats of the Clackamas county members. It was referred to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. Helm moved to take the petition of the Benton county members from the table. The motion prevailed, and the petition was referred to a special committee consisting of Messrs. Helm, Dorris and Hare.

SENATE MESSAGE.

A message from the Senate announced the refusal of that body to concur in the House joint resolution to authorize two dollars worth of postage stamps to each member.

PRINTING DOCUMENTS.

Mr. Blank offered a resolution to print four thousand copies of Governor Grover's inaugural address. Mr. Dunbar moved to amend by adding six hundred copies of Governor Wood's biennial message. He thought it but just to order the printing of such a number to cover the expense already incurred.

Mr. Helm objected to having so many copies of Gov. Woods' message printed. He said there was a grave question as to whether the printing that had already been done had been done by the proper authority. The resolution was laid upon the table, and a Senate Joint resolution to print 1,000 copies of Gov. Woods' message, and the accompanying documents and 500 copies of Gov. Grover's address was taken up and amended by increasing the latter number to 1,000 and was adopted.

HOURS FOR MEETING—PRAYERS—VETO.

Mr. Paquet offered a resolution to meet at nine o'clock A. M. and at two o'clock P. M. each day until further orders.

Mr. Alexander moved to insert one instead of two o'clock.

Mr. Apperson objected to that, as some of the members boarded at some distance from the Chambers it would be inconvenient to allow but an hour for dinner.

Mr. Alexander thought the session of forty days would be short enough at best. He advised the members to bring their tents and camp out. There never had been a time when Salem furnished proper accommodations.

Mr. Dunbar suggested that as the House Committee were ready to go to work, it would not be advisable to hold long sessions.

Mr. Alexander's motion failed.

Mr. Hare moved to strike out 9 o'clock, A. M., and insert 10 o'clock, A. M. He said it was a mistake to suppose that long sessions were necessary to facilitate business. The work of legislation could be best done by being all prepared in committees and acted upon with as little talk as practicable. The motion prevailed and the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Dunbar offered a resolution authorizing the Speaker to invite clergymen to open sessions with prayer. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Whiteaker in the chair.

A communication from the Secretary of State transmitted a message from ex-Governor Woods, vetoing the Chinese Bill of the last session. It was laid on the table to be considered next Wednesday.

At 3:45 P. M. the House adjourned.

A Morning Visit.—Mrs. Graham—Kate, where is your mother this morning? Kate—She's in the kitchen making mince pies. Mrs. G.—Why, Kate, you surprise me! Mrs. Crocker told me only a few days ago that she was quite sick and not able to be about. Kate—Oh, yes, she has been quite sick, but the day after Mrs. C. was here, ma sent for a bottle of PLANTATION BITTERS, and has taken it three times a day since. It worked like a charm, and ma says she is better and stronger than she has been for years. She thinks it the best medicine in the world, and wants me to take some, but it is so awful bitter I do not like it. I have taken it several times, but it gives me such an appetite that I tell ma her mince pies will not last long. The Angel and the Child.

TRANSLATED BY H. W. LONGFELLOW

An angel with a radiant face,
Above a cradle bent to look,
Seemed his own image there to trace,
As in the waters of a brook.

"Dear child! who me resemblest so,
It whispered, come, O come with me!
Happy together let us go,
The earth unworthy is of thee!

"Here none to perfect bliss attain;
The soul in pleasure suffering lies;
Joy hath an undertone of pain,
And even the happiest hours their sighs.

"Fear doth at every portal knock;
Never a day serene and pure
From the o'ershadowing tempest's shock
Hath made the morrow's dawn secure.

"What, then, shall sorrows and shall fears
Come to disturb so pure a brow?
And with the bitterness of tears
These eyes of azure troubled grow?

"Ah no! into the fields of space,
Away shalt thou escape with me;
And Providence will grant thee grace
Of all the days that were to be.

"Let no one in thy dwelling cower,
In sombre vestments draped and veiled;
But let them welcome thy last hour,
As thy first moments once they hailed.

"Without a cloud be there each brow;
There let the grave no shadow cast;
Where one is pure as thou art now
The fairest day is still the last."

And waving wide his wing of white,
The angel, at these words, had sped
Towards the eternal realms of light!—
Poor mother! see, thy son is dead!

—Jean Reboul.

The "Coming" Man Marries the "Coming Woman."

The Virginia City Enterprise has the following:

Yesterday forenoon a gallus looking Celestial, with a well-oiled tail hanging down to his heels, followed by a robust specimen of the Flowery Kingdom, with her hair dressed a la fan-tailed pigeon, came to Justice Fling's Court-room to be married "Melican" style.

"You have got license, John?" asked the Judge.

"Yes, me hab got," answered John, "me go one Cote-housee, one law man, me heap catchee licensee."

"Well, you likee me marry you Melican fashion?"

"Yes, me likee all the same one Melican man."

"You got any wife now, John?"

John astonished—"No, me no hab got one wifee. Me likee catchee one wifee, me likee catchee him," pointing to the almond-eyed female at his side.

"Are you married?" asked the Judge of the Celestial; "you got one man?"

"No, me no got one man. Me one man China country—he come die one time."

"Well, all right. What's your name, John?"

"Me name Su-u-ung Fung."

"What? Some Fun?"

"No, me name So-u-o-ng Fu-o-ng."

"Oh! Sung Fung! Well, what's her name—the woman's?"

"Who, him? Him name Ho-ye Go-ye."

"Hoy Goy? All right; you stand up here. Take her by the hand, John. No, stand this way. Not that hand, this hand, John, so. Now, John, what's your name?"

"Me name Su-u-ng Fung."

"Now, John—Sung Fung, you takee him woman—what you call him name, John?"

"Call him Ho-oy Go-oye."

"You take him Hoy Goy to be your wife and promise to keep her heap good, heap plenty licee give her eatee, no kick her, be good man all time, hey?"

John—"You bet me belly good man, Judge. Me no kick him plentee."

Judge—"Now, you here, Hog Eye, or whatever your other name is—you takee him to be your man, be one belly good wifee him all time, no run away, cook him licee all time—bet your life?"

Hoy Goy—"Me one belly good woman, cookee um licee, no lun away, all time stay housee allee time—bully wifee me."

Judge—"All rightee. Me plentee power, me big mandarian—two swordee man me tellee you all one piecee—one piecee man, one piecee wifee. Plentee fix, all done. John, Cash, John, money sabe?"

John pungled, but was determined (so pleased to find himself married 'Melican fashion) to have a bit of a blow out. He sent out for wine and glasses and treated all hands. After this was over the pair struck out for Chinatown, remarking, "Hi yang chin powe, sung, te pin chin tow ee hing," as they went, which shows that they were highly delighted with the Melican marriage ceremony.

Route of the Northern Pacific Railroad.—The Commissioner of the General Land Office is in receipt through the Secretary of the Interior of maps designating the line of the Northern Pacific railroad from its eastern terminus, at the mouth of Montreal river, on Lake Superior, in Wisconsin, to the western terminus, at Puget Sound, Washington Territory.

This route traverses the northern part of Wisconsin, passing at or near the head of Lake Superior, in Minnesota, thence west through the counties of Carleton, Cass, Wadena, and Otter tail, thence northwest by way of Georgetown, on Lake Minnervaken, or Devil's Lake, in Dakota Territory. From this point it bears southwest, following to a great extent the valley of Yellowstone river, in Montana Territory, through mountains to Salmon river, in Idaho Territory, thence along the valley of that river to near its mouth. From there it reaches the Columbia river at Wallula, and following that river west to Vancouver and then north to Monticello, it there leaves it and continues north along Puget Sound and the adjacent waters to the international boundary in Washington Territory. The road has been recognized by the department to Seattle, on Puget Sound, Washington Territory.

Maps are in course of preparation showing the line of the road and limit of the land grant to the extent of ten miles on each side to that point, and when completed will be transmitted to the proper district land offices with orders for a withdrawal from settlement or entry of the lands granted.

WAR MISCELLANY

Prussian soldiers praise the bravery of the French highly. They relate that a company of troops of the line, not the fantastical, windy Turcos, were reduced to fifteen men, at the battle of Wissemburg, and when asked to surrender replied with a volley into the German ranks. The next moment saw every man of that heroic band stretched bleeding to the ground.

Gen Douay was buried at Weissenburg the day after the Germans captured that town, with full military honors. His body was followed to the grave by an entire regiment of infantry and a battery of artillery, and the last salute was fired by a whole company. On the way to the church yard the band played the French national hymn, and, returning after the burial, the popular song "Die Wacht am Rhein."

An English military paper, which takes the Napoleonic side in the present war, gives as one of its reasons for doing so, the fact that Napoleon the Third has been the faithful ally of England, and nobly sprang to England's side when her own flesh and blood were, during the American war, ready to turn and rend her. We suppose this refers immediately to Napoleon's offer to support England at the time of the Trent difficulty. But, for our part, we need only say that if this be considered a good reason for supporting Napoleon in England, it cannot be urged upon the American people as a good reason for supporting him.

The war is, of course, producing the usual number of marvellous compounds. A French chemist, it is reported, discovered a composition which has the property, when it hits the mark, of bursting that which contains it, of instantly decomposing atmospheric air, and uniting with the oxygen therein to produce a cloud of fire throughout a radius of some yards in extent. Contact with water, contact with any element containing oxygen produces similar effects. In three hours a quantity of this substance may be prepared sufficient to surround an army of 10,000 men with a sheet of flame.

Where is the French navy, said to be so thoroughly appointed, so strong in ironclads, and of which everything was expected at the beginning of the war? At the breaking out of hostilities France was thought to have the advantage of Prussia on the sea; her navy was held to be powerful, but up to this date the French navy has not done the first thing that will have the slightest influence on the result of the contest. The performances of the French both on land and water have been hitherto ridiculously small compared with the exploits they boasted they were going to do. The soldiers have indeed fought bravely, but the leaders of the army and [illegible] have proved themselves woefully incompetent, and the navy being so inefficient that it long ago ceased to be taken into account at all.

Says the New York Tribune: It takes a dozen falsehoods [illegible] badly told and so it is incumbent on [illegible] after figuring French victories out of the ten engagements recently fought on French soil in much the same way that its Arithmetic Man used to figure "Democratic gains" out of overwhelming Republican victories, to prove that the Prussian war loan is a failure. Its column of assertion yields only one thing to great force—fundamental fact. The truth is that though the five per cent war loan was originally issued at 88 it was quoted in Hamburg on the 10th inst at 91¼ and 91½ and sold at 92. The Treasurer of the North German Confederation on that date ordered the subscription books to be closed, declining to sell any more of the bonds at 88, as the offers previously made were largely in excess of the wants of the Government.

POLITICAL NOTES

Many of the officers of the rebel army whose disabilities have been removed, are very anxious to serve the country as members of the next Congress.

When Lewis D Campbell, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Dayton (Ohio) district, was the candidate of the Know nothings against Clement L Vallandigham his majority was over 2,000.

The platform of the Democracy of Georgia squarely reaffirms the doctrine of State rights, as maintained before the rebellion, and puts forward no other issue. The party is actively organizing for the approaching canvass.

The Democrats of Louisiana are said to have followed the World's advice to ignore the negro question, and are striving diligently to secure a portion at least of the negro vote. The managers in New Orleans have issued a circular inviting the negroes to send delegates to the approaching conventions, and promising their recognition.

The Nashville Chronicle says: "We learn from a gentleman direct from Greenville that ex President Johnson and ex Senator Patterson are very much enraged at the action of the Greenville National Union in hoisting the name of Gen John C Brown as its choice for Governor. Mr Johnson is known to favor Gen Quarles for Governor, as being a Democrat, and having supported him for the position of United States Senator. Johnson and Patterson own considerable stock in the Union, and they design crushing that journal if it is in their power to do so. The ex-President says the "old Whigs are trying to take everything."

There is as much difference between the Democrats of the South on the fifteenth amendment as there is in regard to their future party names. The Louisville Courier Journal, the able organ of the Kentucky Democracy, insists that the Democrats having recognized emancipation by accepting the first or thirteenth amendment they are bound to acknowledge its natural offspring the fifteenth. But the Democrats of Delaware take exactly the opposite ground, and their present representative in Congress, Benjamin T Biggs, accepts his renomination in the following big explosion: "In the presence of this people and Almighty God I declare the fifteenth amendment a monstrous fraud. Hear, O earth, and give ear, O heavens! In the Senate of the United States sits a dirty, thieving, lousy nigger preacher, combing his lousy wool in that august body."

Census returns from three fourths of the city of New York show a population of 667,283. The entire population will be under 900,000. The returns in detail make interesting reading for repeaters and Tammany politicians.

It was in Louisville last week that a gentleman accosted an Irishman at work on the Fifth street sewer with, "Well, Pat, you are digging out a big hole here." "Be gob an ye're mistaken, sir. It's the dirt I'm diggin' out and lavin' the hole."

A watering place correspondent says "dressing is not a matter of moment here. Every lady is singularly independent, and dresses or not as it suits her. It is to be hoped it suits her to dress."

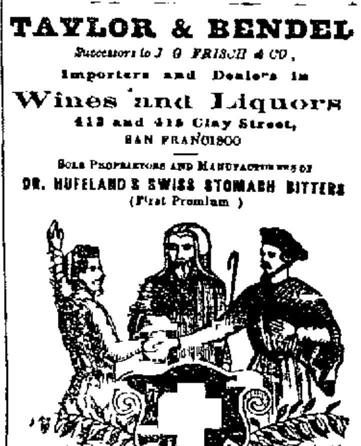
SOLE PROPRIETORS AND MANUFACTURERS OF
DR. HUFELAND'S SWISS STOMACH BITTERS
(First Premium.)



The world renowned reputation, together with the extensive and increasing demand for DR. HUFELAND'S SWISS BITTERS will at once recommend them to the favorable notice of all connoisseurs and lovers of a GOOD AND HEALTHFUL TONIC AND INVIGORATOR. As a Purifier of the Blood, acting surely yet gently on the secretions of the Liver and Kidneys, they are unsurpassed and a most agreeable drink. ap2dtf

This Remedy does not simply relieve for a short time, but it produces perfect and permanent cures of the worst cases of Chronic Nasal Catarrh, and I will pay $500 reward for a case that I cannot cure. "Cold in the head" and Catarrhal Heads he are cured with a few applications. If you have a discharge from the nose, offensive or otherwise, stopping up of the nose at times, partial loss of the sense of smell, taste or hearing, eyes watering or weak, feel dull, have pain or pressure in the head, you may rest assured that you have Catarrh. Thousands annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, terminate in Consumption and end in the grave. No disease is so common, more deceptive or less understood by physicians. I will send my pamphlet on Catarrh to any address free. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is now

SOLD BY MOST DRUGGISTS IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

SECURE A HOME!!

THE RIVERSIDE

HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION!

OF

EAST PORTLAND, OREGON

I AM NOW PREPARED TO RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS to the stock.

Application for ONE HUNDRED SHARES was made [illegible] and a large number of shares [illegible].

The following extracts from the Oregonian and Bulletin [illegible] of the plan and workings of the Association in the location of the land [illegible].

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION

This is a new organization of which we gave an account a few days since, [illegible] for the purpose of shares. As it is with the exception of the Portland Homestead Association, the pioneer organization of that kind in this city, it may be well to state what are its purposes and the manner in which it is proposed to conduct its operations. The purposes of these Homestead Associations are not at all speculative in the ordinary sense of the word. They are dependent for the profits of their investment upon the natural advance in the value of their lands consequent upon the co-operation of many individuals, shareholders, and the advance on values of all surrounding lands by reason of the expansion of population and demand for room outside of but still near the city. The Riverside Homestead Association has a fraction over one hundred and twenty acres of land situated just south of Brooklyn on the east side of the river, the nearest boundary line being about one mile from the ferry landing at East Portland. The tract lies in one strip along the Wallamet river half a mile in length, and another strip along the Oregon and California railroad, half a mile in length, the two strips being connected near the middle by two rows of blocks (with a street between them), the whole forming a figure not unlike the letter H. It is divided into 74 blocks 200 feet square (with streets running at right angles) and 50 fractional lots along the river front. The shares number 600, worth $50 per share. It will be seen that a share thus represents nearly a lot with an undivided interest in the 50 fractional lots. The 50 fractional shares are to be sold off at the proper time for the benefit of the Association shareholders coming in for the proceeds in proportion to the number of shares held. When all shares are taken and the Association shall determine to do it, the choice of lots and blocks will be put up at auction to the highest bidder, the proceeds of such sales, after deducting the original price of shares or lots, to be divided equally among the whole number of shares. Thus if a person wants a particular lot or block and is willing to pay $100 or $500 premium (more or less as the case may be) he pays it and takes the lot or block as his individual property, the premium being divided among the whole number of shareholders. It will be seen, therefore that everything is co-operative, and all interests mutual. No man can make a dollar out of it without also making a dollar for every other equal shareholder. There is no chance for loss, unless the property, by some chance, should depreciate far below the first actual cost. Whether this is liable to happen in the case of this particular tract of land must be judged by each for himself, but considering the steady and unprecedented advance on real estate in this city and neighborhood and at East Portland and vicinity, for the last year or two, it seems hardly possible for values to go back.

In the Riverside Association all proper precautions seem to have been taken to guard against monopolies of shares. No person is allowed to buy more than the number of shares representing three blocks, or twenty four lots, and votes determining the operations of the Association are restricted in the same manner. The buyers of shares may pay down $60 per share, which will exempt them from all assessments, or they may pay $15 quarterly with an assessment of $5 per share payable with the first installment, being liable in this latter case to another (and only one other) assessment of $3 per share. Upon the payment of the shares in full with the assessments as above, the holder is entitled to his certificate and his proportion of all the profits accrued from all sources. No officer of the Association receives any pay for services except the Secretary, who gets $25 per month, so it will be seen that the expenses must be light.

That part of the tract lying along the river is a high plateau, nearly level, about 60 to 90 feet above the water. There is no part of the front row of blocks but commands a splendid view of Portland and the river for miles up and down stream. That part of the tract lying along the railroad is, every foot of it, of the richest loam soil and adapted to gardening purposes. A beautiful little stream of pure water runs through almost the entire length of this wing of the tract, affording the means of irrigation, and power sufficient to supply pure water to every part of the whole tract. There is not a waste lot or fractional lot in the entire tract. Under all these advantages it would seem impossible that there should be any chance of loss to shareholders. Within a year each shareholder, if he choose, may get a perfect title to as many lots as his shares may represent, or he may continue his interest, undivided with the Association while the organization may exist.—Oregonian.

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

We have been led to make these remarks from the fact that the subject of making homesteads on the outskirts of this city and East Portland is being thoroughly discussed among all classes and one homestead—the Riverside, just south of East Portland—has already been established. The site selected is a tract of land lying a little over a mile south of the ferry landing. It is shaped like the letter H, one side of which, a half mile in length, borders on the river.

From this portion of the homestead, which is elevated but a trifle above the other prong of the H, but is still forty or fifty feet above the river, can be had an extensive view of Portland, East Portland, the shipping and the Willamette river for several miles. The land is very fertile and is partly covered with light fir timber. A tract of land just wide enough for two rows of blocks, with an avenue between them, connects the west prong of the H, which has already been described, with that of the east. This last tract of land is in a beautiful little valley which is now under a high state of cultivation. Through it [illegible] a trout brook, the water [illegible] With a hydraulic ram the [illegible] have water conveyed through [illegible].—Daily Bulletin.
